AARON NAZRUL – BUTTERFLY MAN | RELEASE DATE DECEMBER 4TH, 2007

Lit Fuse Records presents “Butterfly Man”, the debut folk album from Vancouver singer/songwriter Aaron Nazrul, produced by former “Doug and the Slugs” keyboardist and Genie Award-Winner Simon Kendall, with additional tracks produced by Lin Gardiner of Super G Music and Vancouver’s DJ Darren Woodhead.

Aaron Nazrul (real name Aaron Ross) was a hit at this year’s Edinburgh Fringe Festival in Scotland, winning popular and critical acclaim: “The Golden Voice of the Festival...definitely a talent to watch for in the future.” Festival FM Radio

Aaron’s music combines the raw emotional intensity of Ben Harper and the cultural diversity of Manu Chao, an emerging talent with the voice of a future classic. Tracks of note are “As the Sun Goes Down”, “Take These Chains”, “Butterfly Man”, and “Delivered” featuring guest vocals from Frazey Ford of The Be Good Tanyas.

The album was inspired by Aaron’s recent travels in South East Asia, and includes songs written during a motorcycle trip through Laos, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, and China. “Butterfly Man” is a slang term in Asia for a restless traveler who never settles in one place, or with one person.

The album was Executive Produced by Lit Fuse Records founder Baba Brinkman, who has gained international recognition for his “Rap Canterbury Tales” performances. “Butterfly Man” is now available from the iTunes Music Store, with general release in retail stores December 4th. Review copies are available on request.
