Bring on baba

BABA BRINKMAN brings a twist to Chaucer's Canterbury Tales by translating the stories with hip hop rhythms and tongue twisting rhymes.

The basis of the tales remains the same – The Wife of Bath is the same feisty widow and The Miller is still a drunken leech, but they are presented in a fresh, modern way.

Baba is at 21 South Street tomorrow night at 8pm. Tickets are £9, £7 concessions. Call (0118) 960 6060.
